

A. H. CARDIN

BRINGS SUIT

Wants $16,400 Damages from Night Riders for Property Loss.

EIGHTH SUIT OF KIND FILED IN FEDERAL COURT AT PADUCAH.

Paducah, Ky., Jan. 12.—A. H. Cardin, of New Albany, Ind., formerly a resident of View, Ky., whose tobacco warehouse at View, in Crittenden county, was destroyed by night riders the night of February 8, 1908, has brought suit here in the Federal Court for $16,400 against the following alleged night riders:

William Neal, Charles Blue, Charles Smith, Polk Prince, George Snadon, William Simms, Dr. David A. Amos, Thomas Amos, J. E. Hollowell, John W. Hollowell, Dixie Satterfield, Fred Darrah, C. R. Baunister, L. G. Hopper, Sam Cash, Milton Oliver, Alonzo Gray, John Merrick, James Merrick, Oscar Gray, Marshall Gray, R. R. Mitchell, Robert Gray, Peter Grimes, Barney Davis, Robert Oliver, Roy Robertson, Richard Robertson, John Glover, Herbert Oliver, Wallace Oliver, Clarence Sisk, Robert Oliver, Jr., Jim Salyers, Elliot Brown, Wiley Brown, Jim Glover, Fim Oliver, Lowery Nabb, Irvin Hollowell, Walter Glover, John D. Rogers, Sr., John D. Rogers, Jr., Herbert Coleman, Levy Oliver, W. H. Hall, Buck Lacey, Dr. J. B. Wadlington, Shelley Eldred, S. A. Hollowell, Buck Tandy, Geo. Tandy, Jim Tandy, Roger Tandy, W. H. Tandy, Edgar Tandy, William Larkins, Arch Hollowell, John Nabb, Linsey Nabb, Charles Wood, Richard Pool, Bart Gray, Peter Grimmer, Guy Dunning, Herchel Dunning, Levi Dunning, Marvin Broadbent, Robert Nabb, Dock Nabb, Chas. Nabb, Charley Gresham, Elwood Gresham, Ed Gresham, Lit Cash, Hy Coleman, Thomas Gray, Urey Lacey, Charles Wadlington, and Geo. Barnes. All the defendants excepting Polk Prince, of Tennessee, near Guthrie, are residents of Kentucky.

Defendants in Other Cases.

Nearly every defendant was either a defendant or an alibi witness in the Hollowell case, the first filed in the Federal Court, and the majority are defendants in the case of Henry Bennett, while quite a number are defendants in the Birmingham raid cases.

Elwood Neel, the deputy marshal, who is serving summonses for the Federal Court, now knows most of them by sight and is experiencing less difficulty in finding and serving them.

Mr. Cardin was an independent tobacco buyer and the most prominent Populist in Kentucky. He had been repeatedly warned by the night riders, but he paid no heed to them. The night of February 8 last they made a raid in force on his home and shot it up. Mr. Cardin was out of the State at the time, and the night riders contented themselves with burning his warehouse and leaving a warning for him.

Eighth suit filed.

This suit of Mr. Cardin's is the eighth to be filed in the Federal Court here against alleged night riders within twelve months. In the first case, that of Robert Hollowell against the Lamaseo raiders, which these defend-those of Mr. Hollowell's wife and son. Three suits, aggregating $100,000 for the Birmingham raids are in process of settlement out of court.

Aside from the particular facts in the outrage against him, Mr. Cardin alleges verbatim the grounds recited by Henry Bennett. He tells of the organization of the Planters' Protective Association, "to establish a monopoly of said dark tobacco and to control the price and product of the same."

He alleges that these defendants, members of said corporation, did conspire and confederate together, and form and organize a secret criminal society which was and is generally called and known as the silent brigade or night riders.

Describes Purpose of Plan.

He describes the organization of the night riders and says: "The object and purpose of said criminal combination, conspiracy and confederacy was to compel all persons who grew, handled or owned said tobacco to join and become members of said association and pool and pledge their tobacco * * * and the further object and purpose of said society and said lodges was to inflict condign punishment upon all such growers, handlers or owners of tobacco as might decline or refuse to become members of said association or to pool their tobacco."

The further object, he says, was to "defend the objects and purpose of courts of justice in said counties and of corruptly and by intimidations and threats influence such courts and officers thereof and the grand and petit jurors empaneled thereof and thereby and unlawfully and criminally procure the release and discharge of any members of said society or lodges from confinement or trial for the crimes and offenses committed by them."

PLANS ADOPTED FOR A NEW HOME.

$15,000 Dormitory to be Erected by Pythians in Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 13.—The Board of Directors of the Knights of Pythias' Widows and Orphans home met again Wednesday morning in the headquarters for the lodge in this state in The Trust Company Building, and adopted plans and specifications for the new building to be erected at the home in this city. Bids will now be advertised for and the contract let at a date to be announced later.

The building is to cost between $15,000 and $20,000. It will be a two-story brick structure on the same colonial style of the present home. It will contain more than twenty rooms with a ward on the first floor for the youngest children in the home. It will be used as a dormitory, and will accommodate about sixty inmates. Work is to be begun at an early date and the building pushed to completion as soon as possible.

At the session Wednesday morning the home farm was leased for one year to Mr. P. P. Reveal, forty acres to be cultivated in corn and twenty-five in tobacco.

The board took a recess at 11 o'clock to go to the home, where an elegant dinner was served by the manager of the home. The event was greatly enjoyed by all. At 2 o'clock the board again convened in the office downtown.

LUDICROUS SITUATION DEVELOPS IN THE ARMY.

So Many Enlisted in Cavalry There are not Horses to go 'Round.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Conditions which have made it possible to enlist nearly the entire authorized strength of the army, has resulted in the ludicrous situation, it has been explained to congress, whereby, in the event of war, only part of each troop would go to battle on horseback while the remainder of the cavalry would have to go on foot.

During the hearings on the army appropriation bill now being drafted by the House Military Affairs Committee officials of the War Department testified that under the regulations only sixty horses are allowed for each troop, while the enlistment has been so heavy that it is admitted in several cavalry organizations there are more men than horses and the probability of many other troops being added to this list demands a change in the regulations.

URGES ATTENDANCE AT FARMER'S INSTITUTE.

Commissioner Rankin Tells Farmers Importance of Coming Meeting.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 9.—Farmers are being urged to be present at the State Farmers' Institute, which will be held in Louisville in February, and deliver addresses on the subjects which will interest farmers. M. C. Rankin, Commissioner of Agriculture, is sending out letters to the heads of all the farmers' clubs in the state urging them to make talks on the last day of the State Institute and calling their attention to the importance of the meeting in Louisville.

It has not been decided positively as yet whether or not the institute will be held in Louisville, but a meeting of the Board of Agriculture, Forestry and Immigration will be held in Louisville on January 15 to determine where the meeting shall be held.

WILL SELL ON OPEN MARKET.

Tobacco Association's Deal With Spanish Government is OK.

Clarksville, Tenn., Jan. 9.—It is generally understood the deal between the Dark Tobacco Association and the Spanish Government for all the lungs held by the association is off, and that this type of tobacco, since negotiations for the entire lot have been pending, has been thrown on the market.

The reasons for the move, as declared by the association, is that a better average can be secured by selling each hoghead separately. The association has been offered 5 cents a pound for all lag holdings, but this they have refused.

PENITENTIARY SUIT TO ORDER.

Judge Booe, Convicted Auditor's Clerk, too Fat for Regulation Sizes.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 9.—Judge Charles E. Booe appeared in the penitentiary today garbed in a nice-fitting suit of stripes which was made to his special measure last Tuesday. The prison tailor had nothing in the regular size that would fit the new prisoner's inclination to rotundity so a special suit was made up for him and was ready.

Judge Booe was assigned to work in the clothing department but this may be only temporary. He occupies cell No. 30.

SOUTH TO HAVE BUILDING.

Commercial Congress Buys Property at Washington and will Erect Twelve-Story Structure.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Representatives of the Southern Commercial Congress have closed a deal whereby that organization purchases St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Church at Fifteenth and H. streets, Northwest, to erect an office building and permanent home in this city. Title to the property is taken by John M. Parker of New Orleans, president of the congress.

It is planned to raise an endowment fund of $1,000,000, about half of which is necessary to pay for the ground and the remainder to construct a twelve-story building. On the ground floor of the structure will be a banking room and accommodations for other business. One floor will contain a large auditorium and committee-rooms for the meetings of the congress, while another will be used for permanent exhibits of products of the South.

NIGHT RIDER MISSIVE

Threatens Death to Seven Citizens of Lyon County.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 10.—Geo. Griffin, of Star Lime Works, Lyon county, received a letter yesterday threatening death to himself and son, Larkin Griffin, James Bohannon, Jolly & Nichols, merchants, and two men named Dodd, all of that section.

It read, "Be prepared for death for we will get you most any time."

The note was not signed, but is supposed to be from night riders, as these men are members of the Law and Order League. The letter was mailed at Grand Rivers, Ky.

Irving W. Wheatcroft Now in the Race Horse Business.

Who wouldn't be a jockey, says a San Francisco dispatch. Ed. Martin is to get $1,500 a month and a bonus for riding Irving W. Wheatcroft's horses this winter at Santa Anita.

The terms, $1,500 a month and a bonus, are about the record for a jockey's service on a winter race track.

Wheatcroft is several times a millionaire, Cesarion for $6,000 and Miss Sain for $4,000 being recent thoroughbred purchases. His winter home is at Pasadena.

Mr. Wheatcroft is well known in this city and formerly owned a mine in Webster county near Providence. Several Earlinton men have worked for him at various times.

MORE RAIN AND SNOW COMING.

Chief Forecaster Predicts General Storms Over Large Area.

Willis G. Moore, Chief of the Weather Bureau at Washington, has issued the following bulletin:

An extreme and pronounced barometric disturbance covers the country from the Rocky Mountains westward. It will move eastward, attended by wind, widespread snows over the northern and rains over the southern districts, but will probably reach into the North Atlantic States by Thursday or Thursday night. Temperatures will rise generally over the Middle West for two days and over the Eastern States until Saturday. In the absence of reports from Alaska, the degree of cold to follow the disturbance cannot be determined, but it is probable that it will be colder Thursday in the middle plateau, Thursday night and Friday in the plain States, Saturday in the central valleys and upper lake region and Sunday and Sunday night in the lower lake region, the Middle Atlantic States and New England. Rain or snow will probably continue Friday and Saturday over the Eastern districts.

HITCHCOCK WILL NOT CONTINUE AS CHAIRMAN.

Will Resign When he Takes The Office of Postmaster General.

Washington, Jan. 12.—In announcing simultaneously that Frank H. Hitchcock will be the next Postmaster General and that when he takes office he will resign the post of chairman of the Republican national committee, the President-elect probably acted wisely. He set at rest irresponsible stories to the effect that as Postmaster General and Republican chairman at the same time Mr. Hitchcock was to conduct a political campaign and attend also the duties of the Postoffice Department.

ERNEST NEWTON

FOR POLICE JUDGE

Recommended by City Council to Governor Willson for Appointment.

W. R. Coyle was Considered but Declined to Allow Name Used.

At a meeting of the City Council Monday night the matter of selection of a successor to Police Judge Charles Cowell, resigned, was finally disposed of. This was an adjourned meeting from the first Monday night in January. Ernest Newton was recommended by the Council to Governor Willson for the appointment and this recommendation will doubtless carry with the Governor.

Several different names were considered by the councilmen most prominent among those considered perhaps being W. R. Coyle, a Republican and a leading merchant. It is said that Mr. Coyle was a prime favorite with some of the councilmen and could have won the recommendation, but that he withdrew his name and declined to allow himself to be considered.

Mr. Newton stands high in the community—though not very tall—and is a citizen of excellent character. He is owner of a good blacksmithing business and has numerous friends here. Mr. Newton is a democrat, but politics did not control the action of the council.

DRYS ARE BUSY

AT MADISONVILLE.

Mass Meetings Being Held Nightly and Prohibitionists Confident.

Madisonville, Ky., Jan. 13.—The prohibition campaign, which is now drawing to a close, is warming up in the city this week and as only four more days remain until the election, these opposed to the open saloon are hustling some. The election will be held next Monday, and the "drys" claim that they will win by a large majority. At the last election in July of last year the town voted dry by a majority of 87, but on account of irregularities in regard to the manner in which the election was held, it was thrown out.

The campaign this time has been lively, both sides making a strong fight. Last week a joint debate between Dr. J. W. West, president of the Anti-Saloon League, and Mr. D. M. Smith, of Louisville, was held at the Opera house, and the building was not large enough to accommodate the crowd.

Mass meetings are being held nightly and Dr. West will be here again Friday to assist the prohibitionists in their work during the remainder of the week.

Cousin of Lincoln Near Death.

Elizabethtown, Ky., Jan. 9.—John G. Nall, one of the leading citizens of Vine Grove, in this county, is at the point of death with paralysis. He has suffered three strokes. Mr. Nall is seventy-six years of age, and a postmaster of Vine Grove under Cleveland's administration. He is the nearest living relative of Abraham Lincoln in Kentucky. His great-great-grandmother was a sister to Thomas Lincoln, the father of the martyred President, making Mr. Nall a second cousin.

There is a difference between swearing by an institution and swearing at an institution, particularly if the swearer is connected with the institution. Ever know any of the latter sort of people?

Samuel Gompers has just had something to say—at an annual oyster roast—about the recent contempt decision of Judge Wright, which he says is his first word. It is remembered that Judge Wright had about the “last word” at another sort of a roast.

It is reported that Victor Emmanuel III, King of Italy, has said “The Americans are always first.” It was when relief for the earthquake sufferers was offered first by our ambassador. In this, at least, the President and the Congress were in accord.

The muck rake and the knocker-hammer are again busy in our national workshop at Washington. Pity the people. Pity the country. Pity our commerce and our industries. When the President and the Senate and the Congress shall have fought it out and each established their personal rights the business of the people may go forward and the country again be at rest.

Congressional Notes

The house naval committee Monday decided that the increase for the navy to be provided for in the year's bill should include two battleships of 26,000 tons each, five torpedo boat destroyers, four submarine boats, three colliers and one sub-surface boat. The cost of these vessels will be $29,000,000. The increase that was asked for by the navy department was for four battleships and enough other vessels to bring the cost up to $75,000,000. The total amount carried by the naval appropriation bill as reported to the house was $132,000,000.

The house committee on rivers and harbors again Monday failed to reach a conclusion to report a general rivers and harbor bill this session. It is understood, however, that a majority of the committee favors a measure appropriating about $10,000,000 for surveys for emergencies and for the maintenance of projects under way. The committee will meet again Saturday, in an effort to reach a definite conclusion, but it is practically certain no general bill will be reported.

Senator Tillman was the central figure in the senate Monday, occupying almost an hour of the time of that body immediately on its meeting, with his carefully prepared speech in reply to the president's charges concerning his action in attempting to acquire by purchase some of the timber lands of Oregon originally held as a railroad grant, while advocating litigation by the department of justice to compel their sale.

The senate passed a bill appropriating $90,000 for the purchase of the Sequoia grove of big trees in California.

A recommendation by the committee on finance and the committee on judiciary favoring an increase of the salary of the president to $100,000 and those of the vice-president and the speaker of the house of representatives was referred to the committee on appropriations.

Stubbs Takes the Oath.

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 12.—Despite a blinding snow-storm Monday, which forced the committee in charge of the inaugural ceremonies for Governor W. A. Stubbs to abandon the automobile tour of the city, over 2,000 persons attended the exercises at the city auditorium. The oath of office was administered by Chief Justice W. A. Johnston. E. W. Koch made a goodby speech as retiring governor. Three ex-governors were present.

Maybrick Engagement Denied.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Charles G. Wagner, secretary of the Clayton lyceum bureau, who has arrived here from Nebraska, says of his reported engagement to Mrs. Maybrick: “There is nothing to give rise to such a rumor. When last I saw Mrs. Maybrick had a business conference with her, and nothing was said to indicate that she or I contemplated matrimony.”

REV. GARMICHAEL COMMITTS SUICIDE

MICHIGAN PASTOR LEAVES LETTER TELLING HOW HE KILLED BROWNING.

KILLS HIMSELF IN ILLINOIS

Claimed to Have Fallen Victim to Murdered Man's Hypnotic Powers.
Exchanged Part of Clothing.

Carthage, Ill., Jan. 12.—Rev. John H. Carmichael, who last Tuesday night in the little Methodist church at Battle Run, Mich., killed Gideon Browning, the village carpenter, and then hanged the body in the stove, committed suicide here Monday by cutting his throat with a pocket knife.

He died at the county hospital after he had been taken from the boarding house of Miss Miranda Hughes, where as a stranger he had been living since last Friday.

Story of the Killing.

In a long letter found in his suit case, Carmichael told in detail the story of the killing of Browning; how he had fallen a victim to Browning's hypnotic power and meeting him in the church Tuesday night, was compelled to obey every command; how finally when Browning attacked him with knives, he, Carmichael, defended himself with a hatchet. After killing his victim with the hatchet, he said, the red-hot stove in the church suggested itself as the best method of disposing of the body. Before putting the body in the stove, however, he exchanged some of the dead man's clothing for his own, which had become bespattered with blood.

Carmichael's death was almost as sensational as that of his victim. When he arrived at the Hughes' boarding house, he gave the name of John Elder and as he said he was a wood-worker and had come here to start a factory no suspicion was attached to his presence. Once he went to a Catholic priest and declaring himself a Catholic asked his influence in helping him in business. He gave no indications of brooding over the murder, although all this time he must have thought about it almost constantly, for the written confession had been prepared and was concealed in his room. Although so far as he knew he was still beyond the reach of detectives, the crisis came Monday when about 7:30 o'clock he informed Miss Hughes that as no satisfactory site for his factory could be found here he intended to go to Bowan, Ill.

“I think I will find a better site there,” he said, “I'll take the 9 o'clock train.” “Saying this, he went out into the back yard.

Nursing Mothers and Over-burdened Women

In all stations of life, whose vigor and vitality may have been undermined and broken-down by over-work, exacting social duties, the too frequent bearing of children, or other causes, will find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the most potent, invigorating restorative strength-giver ever devised for their special benefit. Nursing-mothers will find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting a abundant nourishment for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a priceless help to prepare the system for baby's coming and rendering the ordeal comparatively painless. It can do no harm in any state, or condition of the female system.

Delicate, nervous, weak women, who suffer from frequent headaches, back-ache, dragging-down distress low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, gnawing or distressed sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, see imaginary specks or spots floating before eyes, have disagreeable, pelvic catarrhal drain, prostrating, anteversion or retro-version or other displacements of womanly organs from weakness of parts will, whether they experience many or only a few of the above symptoms, find relief and a permanent cure by using faithfully and loyally persistently Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This world-famed specific for woman's weaknesses and peculiar ailments is a pure glyceric extract of the choicest native medicinal roots without a drop of alcohol in its make-up. All its ingredients printed in plain English on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Dr. Pierce thus invites the fullest investigation of his formula knowing that it will be found to contain only the best agents known to the most advanced medical science of all the different schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments.

If you want to know more about the composition and professional endorsement of the “Favorite Prescription,” send postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his free booklet treating of same.

You can't afford to accept as a substitute for this remedy of famous composition a secret nostrum of unknown composition. Don't do it.

The Rescue Station.

(Louisville Times.)

The effort of coal operators, educators, business men and citizens generally to have the bureau at Washington locate a miners' rescue station in Kentucky deserves success.

The station would bear about the same relation to workers in mines that the life-saving station bears to those who navigate the water. It would not only supply a force for rescue work, but it would instruct miners and others in the methods for preventing accidents and of rescuing those in danger. As auxiliary to the mining school of State University its value would be inestimable.

Kentucky is a great coal-producing State, and its production is increasing readily. Last year it mined 10,000,000 tons of coal. And notwithstanding its high position among mining States, it has the lowest ratio of fatalities among miners through accidents of all States in the Union except Missouri and Maryland, whose mining interests are so slight as hardly to be considered in comparison. The rescue station would be a factor for the preservation of the fine records here. It would be influential in keeping down the death rate despite the inevitable expansion of the State's mining industries in future years. It is to be earnestly hoped, therefore that Kentucky will get the rescue station.

Law Vindicated in Tennessee.

The speed and certain operation of law and justice against the night riders of Reelfoot Lake, terrible in its imposition of the death penalty on six members of the band, is yet fraught with encouragement to those who have looked in vain for some effective vindication of society amid the many cases of lawlessness that have disgraced this section of the South during the past eighteen months.

Judge Jones has proven to be faithful defender of his charge. Sternly fair in his conduct of the case he has pressed the trial to an issue in the face of difficulties that would have deterred a man less courageous and determined. Officials of his type are to be highly honored and greatly prized. They are a strength to the community. Their example is an inspiration to others.

Tennessee has done well to set its foot so firmly upon the hideous reptile of assassination and cowardly assault. The verdict of jury and sentence of the court will go far to deter desperate men from attempting similar methods of remedying or avenging fancied wrongs. We could wish that Kentucky was able to deal with its murderers and incendiaries in like fashion.

time to get his suit case the innkeeper, hunted for him.

A mail carrier was hailed and he aided in the search but Carmichael already by his own hand, so far as he was able had expiated his crime.

In a shed back of the house, he had cut his throat with a pocket knife. The dying man was carried into the house but he never recovered consciousness and died soon after noon.

Chicago Fire Laddies Busy.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—During the 24 hours ending at midnight, the fire department answered calls to 75 fires. Six firemen were injured in a downtown blaze. Two chauffeurs were injured by a collision of their automobiles when they tried to get out of the way of fire engines.

Convicted Riders at Jackson.

Jackson, Tenn., Jan. 11.—The six night riders sentenced to death at Union City Saturday and two others sentenced to twenty years in the state penitentiary have been placed in jail here and will be held in close confinement to await the action of the supreme court which will meet in this city next April.

Woman Starving Self in Jail.

New York, Jan. 9.—A woman known as “The Woman in Black” who refuses to make known her identity and is thought to be of a good family, is confined in the Raymond street jail in Brooklyn, where she is starving herself to death. She refuses to speak or to eat. She was arrested last Saturday for shoplifting.

Mourner's Terrified by Meteor at Burial.

Paducah, Ky., Jan. 9.—Mourners at the burial of Fred Daugherty, who was shot and killed in Crittenden county, were startled when fragments of a meteor fell near the grave. Many of those who saw it believe it was a warning of some kind. After the meteor disappeared the burial proceeded.

Miss Laffoon Seriously Wounded.

Miss Roxie Laffoon, the young lady who was accidentally shot by a stray rifle ball at Madisonville Sunday, is still alive as we go to press. The bullet has not yet been located as her condition will not allow a thorough examination to be made. The party who fired the shot has not yet been found. This promiscuous shooting of small firearms in the city limits is a very bad practice and one that should be stopped.

Maids Now in Sets.

A new idea in maids is to have them in sets, these to be decided upon some point of resemblance, as, for instance, blondes on the second floor and brunettes on the first. Some one pertinently suggests that if a maid should die it might spoil the set, and it could not be as easily replaced as one of china, for instance.

New Oliver No. 5

Sets Swiftest Pace Ever Known in Typewriter Selling.

The wonderful new model Oliver No. 5, has taken the market by storm. Its reception by the public has exceeded in enthusiasm anything we had dared to anticipate.

Employers and stenographers alike have welcomed it as the one machine that answers the multiplied need of the hour.

The cry is for Speed! Speed! Speed!—and the Oliver responds. The demand for Durability is filled by the sturdy, steel-clad Oliver. To a call for a writing machine that will do many things and do each of them equally well, the Oliver answers with its unexampled versatility.

Its visible writing saves the strain on eye and brain. Its legibility lends beauty to its work. The letters that bear the Oliver imprint are the letters that soon to speak.

Oliver No. 5 fairly bristles with new and exclusive time-and-space-saving features. We have space to mention only a few of the more important ones.

—Disappearing Indicator shows exact printing point.

—Balance Shifting Mechanism saves operative effort.

—Line Ruling Device is fine for tabulated work.

—Double Release Doubles convenience.

—Non-Vibrating Base insures stability. Yet with all of these added improvements, we have still further simplified the Oliver by fusing brains with metal.

Oliver No. 5 is a dream come true—the dream of Thomas Oliver crystallized into this wonderful mechanism of shining steel that embodies very possible requirements of a perfect writing machine.

Ask the nearest Oliver agent for a Free Demonstration of Oliver No. 5. Or send for The Oliver Book—yours for a postal.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism. Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfect, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, I have found the missing link in this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those same like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer with such pain. We sell, and in confidence recommend

When Talleyrand Scored.
When Mme. de Stael published her celebrated novel, "Delphine," she was supposed to have painted herself in the person of the heroine, and M. Talleyrand in that of an elderly lady, who is one of the principal characters. "They tell me," said he, the first time he met her, "that we are both of us in your novel, in the disguise of women."

For cuts, sprains, bruises, burns, rheumatic and all other pains, use McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment. First sold in 1852, still the same effective remedy in 1908. Good for men or beast. 25c., 50c. and $1.00.

Prosperity and Adversity.
If we do not suffer ourselves to be transported by prosperity, neither shall we be reduced by adversity. Our souls will be proof against the dangers of both these states; and, having explored our strength, we shall be sure of it; for, in the midst of felicity, we shall have tried how we can bear misfortune.—Lord Bolingbroke.

Marriage Age is Increased.
It is generally admitted that the marriageable age of women has advanced considerably of recent years. Many a bride has long left girlhood behind her before she exchanges her vows at the altar, and there seem to be few young men nowadays who care to assume the responsibilities of married life until they are in the financial position usually associated with middle age.

Electrical Air Filters.
Electric air filtration is the idea of an English engineer, and is based on the discovery that a body positively electrified by 100 volts or more will become covered with soot in a single day in a smoky atmosphere, while a negatively charged body remains clean. Inserting a sheet of wire gauze in the intake flue of a ventilating system and electrifying it by connecting to a 250-volt supply main, the gauze extracts a large quantity of soot from the air.

Chronic Constipation Cured.
One who suffers from chronic constipation is in danger of many serious. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup cures chronic constipation as it aids digestion and stimulates the liver and bowels, restoring the normal action of these organs. Commence taking it today and you will feel better at once. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or grip and is very pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes.

Feeling with Idioms.
A foreigner, meeting an American friend, said to him, "How are you?" The latter replied, "Out of sight." The man considered this very clever, and decided to use the expression on the next occasion. Shortly after he was met by a friend, who asked, "How are you?" With visible pride he answered, "You don't see me."

Inchcape Rock.
Inchcape rock is east of the Isle of May, 12 miles from all land, in the German sea. This is the rock that figures in the story of Ralph the Rover, who is supposed to have cut the bell from the huy in a mischievous spirit and later been wrecked on the rock as a result of his own work.

AFTER THE GRIPPE

Vinol Restored This Man's Strength

"Several years ago I was attacked by a severe case of grippe, which left me with a hacking cough, soreness in my chest, and bronchitis. I took nearly every kind of cough syrup sold on the market, besides medicine given me by physicians.

I received no permanent relief until my druggist asked me to try Vinol, and after taking three bottles I was entirely cured.

I believe Vinol to be the greatest blessing ever offered to the public, as it does what is claimed for it." R. B. Hicks, Mapleville, Ala.

The reason Vinol cures chronic coughs, colds and pulmonary troubles is because it contains tonic iron and all the healing and body building elements of cod liver oil but no oil.

Vinol is also unexcelled as a strength builder for old people, delicate children, weak and run-down persons, and after sickness.

GIRL GOOD LAWYER

PRETTY YOUNG FRENCH WOMAN WINS IMPORTANT CASE.

Miss Miropolsky is Only 21 Years Old—Believes in Marriage, But Doesn't Want It to Interfere with Career.

Paris.—The youngest woman lawyer in the world has just been defending a woman accused of trying to kill herself and her baby by inhaling the fumes of a charcoal stove. Miss Helene Miropolsky is only 21 and was sworn in as a lawyer before the court of appeals in this city last October. Her appearance as counsel for the defense in a criminal trial attracted a large number of old lawyers to the courtroom, though the case itself was nothing out of the ordinary. Her client had been abandoned by the father of her child; finding herself on the verge of starvation she had tried to end her miseries. The baby had died, but she had been saved.

"Portia come to life!" cried an old jurist as he watched the beautiful girl and listened to the eloquence of her soft voice pleading for mercy for the unfortunate sister on whom inexorable justice had laid her heavy hand. And so moving was her plea that the jury acquitted her client.

Miss Miropolsky was born in Paris of parents who were Poles by birth. Both father and mother are doctors of medicine, so it is only fair to say that some of the young woman's talent is inherited. She has nothing about her that suggests the "new woman." Handsome, graceful, elegant in costume, she looks like a young woman of the fashionable world—until she dons her gown and cap; then indeed she seems what the old lawyer called her—"Portia come to life."

Before she was 17 she had taken her degree of B. A., and it should be observed that the French requirements for a degree are anything but easy to fulfill.

Miss Miropolsky's portraits do not do her justice, for they cannot reproduce the air of intelligence that beams in every feature nor the changing expression, the keen sparkle of the eye, the jet black hair, the white teeth or the charm of manner which are hers.

Miss Miropolsky desires especially to practice in divorce cases and on behalf of children. With regard to divorce, she expresses ideas which in some countries would be considered audacious. She would like to see divorce made easier; that is, she advocates dissolving a union on the express desire of both parties. This reform she suggests as being really in the interests of morality. Such a condition of affairs, she remarks, virtually exists nowadays, for if the parties really wish to be separated they arrange a comedy in which there are, necessarily, low and vulgar incidents. In divorce cases she hopes that it may be her lot to plead nearly always for the wife, for, she says, it is the woman who suffers most frequently in these domestic failures.

Miss Miropolsky thinks that every possible career should be opened to woman, and she finds that the chief objection of men is due to fear of increased competition and not really to any of the reasons commonly and hypocritically put forward. She would like to see women enter the church as a profession, for that is a sphere in which their qualities would, she believes, be especially serviceable.

In politics, Miss Miropolsky considers she has not yet read and seen enough to be able to decide between the various parties in the republic.

On the question of marriage she has supreme contempt for what are called marriages of reason, the "reason" generally being money. She recognizes that marriage is the true function of woman, and if she were to meet a man for whom she had real affection she would think herself happy to marry; but on no other consideration save that of love. In any case, she would hope to continue her career in the legal profession.

She is an opponent of capital punishment. She regards criminals somewhat in the light of diseased persons. In any case, she says, where our own motives are often so obscure and our judgment so fallible, we have no right to take the life of a human being.

Miss Miropolsky speaks English very well, with a precise but pleasant intonation, and she also speaks and reads German. She has traveled much in Europe and she is a skilled musician. And all this at the age of 21!

The troubles we make light of are really other people's troubles.

MORE THAN 100 DIE IN MINE DISASTER

SECOND EXPLOSION IN WEST VIRGINIA COLLIERY IN TWO WEEKS.

ALL MAY NEVER BE RECOVERED

Debris From Former Accident Had Not Been Cleared Away And Twenty Were Engaged In This Work.

Bluefield, W. Va., Jan. 13.—An explosion of gas in the Lick branch colliery Tuesday snuffed out more than 100 lives. In the same mine two weeks ago to a day, fifty miners were killed by a similar explosion.

A sound like thunder reverberated along the miles of corridors and air passages crowded with those who work in the mine.

Above the tons of earth and stone that lay between the workings and the surface giant trees quivered from the force of the concussion and from the mine mouth belched forth a cloud of flame, soot, dust and debris, heavy timbers, broken mine cars and even a massive motor.

Relatives Rush to Scene.

Scarcely had the detonation died away before a throng of terrorized women and children rushed to the mine mouth, and implored those there to allow them to aid in the effort to save some of their loved ones who might still be alive within.

Mine foreman Bowers who was near the entrance, was blown from his feet, but managed to crawl out safely as did also Robert Smith a miner.

A rescue party organized on the moment rushed into the smoking mines and tried to rescue a miner named Halliday who was hurled back by the blast. They were driven back by the deadly fumes of the after gases and were compelled to leave him to his fate.

A train from this city, was rushed to the scene to carry material to be used in relief and rescue.

From sixty to eighty men were thought to be in the section of the mine affected. The debris from the explosion of two weeks ago had not been cleared away, and twenty men were engaged in this work. Nineteen contract miners with their crews were at work in a new entry and it is feared all these were lost.

The explosion was in a different part of the mine from that of two weeks ago.

Mine Was Declared Safe.

Since that catastrophe, the mine has been inspected by government officials and by the most experienced mine men in the region, and all, it is said, expressed the opinion that it was safe.

None of the bodies has been recovered. One rescue party came in sight of six bodies but was forced back. A late estimate of the number of men entombed is more than 100. That all of them are dead there can be no doubt. The fire in the mine and the deadly gases, to say nothing of the force of the explosion precludes any chance of any of them being alive. The main entry of the mine is four miles long. Debris is blown from both entries.

May Never Recover All.

It is reasonably certain that all of the bodies will never be recovered. The fans which furnish the fresh air for the workings as in the former explosion, were not disabled and are forcing fresh air in the mines.

Two brothers named Surratt, of Speedville, Va., who went to the mine, at the time of the other explosion through curiosity, are in the mine. State Mine Inspectors Phillips and Nicholson are at the mine and are directing the work of rescue.

Pepla who were near the mine at the time of the explosion say immense attempts to bribe former City the mine almost simultaneously with the detonation.

On the Tug river side, four miles from the main entrance, the smoke and flame gushed from the entry, burning the twigs and small limbs from trees that grew near.

The explosion was the worst that ever has occurred in this region, with the exception of one in 1834 at the South West Virginia Improvement company's mine, where 360 were killed. The mine is owned by the Pocahontas Consolidated Collieries company.

Washington, Jan. 13.—A match dropped into a bunch of newspapers on the floor in Speaker Cannon's room, just as a caller was leaving Tuesday, caused a blaze that made it exceedingly warm in the speakers quarters for a brief time. KERN IS CONCEDED LEAD

INDIANA SENATORIAL SITUATION STILL COMPLICATED.

Nat One of the Candidates Claims Victory on the First Ballot.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 13.—On the eve of the caucus which will choose a Democratic senator to succeed James A. Hemenway, the situation was as complicated as it has been for the past ten days. All the candidates will go before the caucus Wednesday night. No one claims victory on the first ballot, but all concede John W. Kern will start with the most votes. The candidates and the number of votes each claim on the first ballot follow:

John W. Kern 30; H. F. Shively 19; L. Ert Slack, 19; John E. Lamb 10; Edward G. Hoffman 12 and Major G. V. Menzies 9. There are 83 Democratic legislators making 43 votes necessary to elect.

Mr. Kern declares he will be nominated on the third ballot but his opponents, especially the supporters of Shively, say Kern's strength will leave him on the second or third ballot. According to Mr. Kern, he will have thirty-five votes on the second ballot and forty-five on the third.

Managers of the Shively and Slack campaigns hold that many who vote for Kern on the second ballot to satisfy constituents, will leave him to carry out pledges made since the legislature opened last Thursday.

Iowa-Liquor Dealers Worried.

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 13.—Iowa liquor dealers are worried over the recommendation of Gov. Garst in his message to the legislature Tuesday, that the tax on saloons be doubled and that $400 of the $1,200 collected yearly be expended in building good roads. The revenue would amount to $750,000 a year. The governor also recommended the adoption of the plan suggested by Attorney General Byers that the governor be empowered to remove county attorneys who do not enforce the liquor and other laws. The legislature canvassed the result of the November election and declared B. F. Carroll elected governor and George W. Clarke, lieutenant governor. These will be inaugurated Thursday.

Recount of St. Louis Ballots.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 13.—The Missouri legislature Tuesday accepted the report of the joint legislative committee on the contest for the lieutenant governorship which urged a recount of the ballots of St. Louis, and certain other precincts in the state. The recount is to begin not later than Saturday and it is expected it will be finished within ten days. Democrats and Republicans believe that the controversy will be amicably settled.

Kills Self in Prison Cell.

Joliet, Ill., Jan. 13.—Joseph Cross, alias Rogers, 38 years old, who has been in prison most of the time since he was 14 years old, committed suicide by hanging himself with a handkerchief in his cell Tuesday. Cross was sentenced by Judge Gary in Chicago for robbery in 1897. He escaped, and was found in 1905 in the Colorado state prison serving time for his discharge from the Colorado prison and brought to Joliet in 1907.

Drops Woman From Buggy.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Jan. 13.—Mrs. John T. Watson, 30 years old, was attacked near her buggy. She was dragged from her buggy, but the arrival of her husband, who had gone to a farmhouse, caused the negro to flee. Watson recognized the assailant as a farmhand, and a posse captured him. He denies guilt. A lynching is threatened.

He has come to work himself up in the railroad world, and starts as lowest clerk. He is a graduate of Yale, '07.

TILLMAN DENIES ANY WRONGDOING

MAKES EXHAUSTIVE EXPLANATION OF CONNECTION WITH OREGON LAND CASE.

DEMANDS AN INVESTIGATION

Senator States That Later He Purposes to Bring Roosevelt Face to Face With His True Self. Uses Strong Terms.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Greeted by applause from the galleries when he entered the senate chamber Monday to reply to President Roosevelt's charges in respect to his connection with Oregon timber land transactions, Senator Tillman of South Carolina, read his prepared remarks with little attempt at oratorical effect. He was accorded careful attention by senators on both sides of the chamber, the public and private galleries being taxed to their full capacity by visitors who occupied all the seats and standing room, while without the entrances long files of men and women unable to gain admission stood for nearly three hours, vainly hoping to enter the galleries.

In addition to his speech, which had been printed in advance, Mr. Tillman had prepared other brief remarks which he read.

"It has been expected and desired," he said, "that having made my own defense I should turn my batteries on my assailant. I do not feel that my strength is sufficient for the double task for my physicians have warned me against overtaxing myself. One of the truest and best sentiments in English literature is this from Tennyson:

"Boiling another will never make one's self clean."

Relies on Character.

"The president lives in a glass house with even a glass floor in it and should remember the old adage. He has exhausted all the power of the government to destroy me, but I feel that I stand unscathed because if all other arguments fail to convince men the character for rectitude, truthfulness and honesty which I have built in sixty-one years of my life would at least be my bulwark. Men who have always been clean and honorable do not suddenly become liars and hypocrites at sixty-one without any necessity.

"Later on in this session it is my purpose to devote some time to bring Theodore Roosevelt face to face with his true self and let the people of the United States see what character of man they have been so bowed down to."

He accused the president of personal malice, misrepresentation, falsification, cowardice, "hitting below the belt," contempt of the senate and violation of the law in the use of the secret service.

He also arraigned the president for permitting the so-called Steed trust to absorb the Tennessee Coal and Iron company, and for "helping his dear friend Harriman hold two million acres of the public domain, because Ben Tillman wanted to buy 1,440 acres."

Demand Investigation.

The senator demanded the most searching investigation of his conduct and invited comparison of his "private life and public work with that of Theodore Roosevelt, or any other man."

He admitted that he was "perhaps disrespectful to the statement of the president declaring that he had not bought or undertaken to buy, any of the lands in question. Everything, he declared, hinged on the meaning of the word 'undertaken' as he used it.

He had not paid any money, nor had he taken anyone's receipt, "the usual process by which one 'undertakes' to buy land."

"I have not attempted to deceive anybody," he declared with emphasis; "I have not told any falsehoods; I have not broken any law; I have not been guilty of any immoral conduct. I had the right to purchase the land if I could."

"Roosevelt," he shouted, "lives in a glass house. Yes, and he lives in a glass house that has glass floors. Caution ought to teach him to have regard for others."

The senator concluded his speech at 1 o'clock and there was such a hubbub in the galleries that the senate took a recess for ten minutes until quiet could be restored.

Knows T. R. Hates Him.

Replying to the president's charge that he had made improper use of his official position, Mr. Tillman said: "I fail to see any sense or reason in this attitude. I had not become a party to any litigation; I was not interested, except as a private individual wanting to purchase, and as a senator desiring to enable others to have the opportunity to do so.

"Of course, the president is sure that I have done something very discreditable and outrageous. He hates me and would destroy me if he

A GIFT FOR ALMA

"Mattie," said Miss Porter's bachelor brother, who had recently surprised his sister very much by becoming engaged to be married, "I wish you'd select an umbrella for Alma. I found out the last time I visited her that she needed one."

"But Donald," protested his sister, "I haven't the least idea what Alma likes. It's rather difficult to choose things for one I've never seen."

"Well," said Donald, faintly, for he was very much in love, "your tastes and hers must be a good deal alike, for you both seem to like me."

Sister Mattie sniffed rather contemptuously, but made no further objection to the task imposed upon her. She shopped painstakingly and finally bought a handsome black silk umbrella, which was slightly reduced in price owing to a fancy border, which the clerk assured her was still very stylish, though not quite the latest touch.

It was so pretty and attractive that she felt sure Alma would be delighted with it. She knew she would be herself. Notwithstanding her pretended scorn, Donald's remark that she and Alma must be a good deal alike had given her a pleasant impression that perhaps their tastes might be similar.

When Donald brought his wife home after a brief wedding trip his sister awoke very quickly to the fact that there were a great many more points of difference than of resemblance between the new sisters-in-law. Pretty Alma was not at all like plain, practical Mattie. The latter could not but marvel that her staid brother could feel at home with such a pleasure-loving creature. Still, the same personal charm that had attracted him won her heart also and she gave the little bride a warm welcome.

"Alma," said Donald the day after their arrival, "I have not seen your umbrella since we came. Do you know where it is?"

"No, I haven't the slightest idea," answered Alma, with no concern whatever in her soft voice.

"Do you remember whether we had it in the car when we came up from the station?"

"No, I think we didn't have it then, Donald. Don't worry about it now, for you know you promised to take Mattie and me out in the parks. Don't you think you ought to be telephoning for a carriage or an automobile? Do get an automobile if you can. That's a ducky deal."

Dignified Donald a ducky deal! Sister Mattie gasped, but her brother looked foolishly happy and went obediently to the telephone in the next room.

"There," said Alma, confidentially, when she and Mattie were left alone together, "I hope he'll forget about that umbrella. I said I hadn't the slightest idea where it was and I hadn't, because I left it on the train before we changed cars at Detroit, and now it may be traveling all around the east looking for its unfortunate owner. I made up my mind the minute Donald gave me that umbrella that I would lose it very soon. It was such a disappointment when I had let him know I wanted one, for him to bring me a perfectly hideous thing. Poor old Don is a darling, but he hasn't any more taste than a cow, has he? The idea of his buying that umbrella with a fancy border. Of course, I just couldn't carry it, could I?"

"Not if it did violence to your entire nature, I suppose," answered Mattie, thinking with some grimness of the weary hours she had passed shopping for that offending article.

A week later Donald came in beaming one afternoon and saying: "I've got a surprise for you, Alma. Guess what it is."

"Oh, is it one of those lovely bracelets I admired so much in New York?"

"No, it's nothing like that," said Donald.

"An electric runabout? You know I'm wild for a little runabout."

"We could hardly afford an automobile, just now," said Donald, with gravity. "You're guessing a little above the mark."

"Well, theater tickets for tonight?"

"No, you were to the theater night before last, and we decided not to go more than once a week."

"You decided," corrected Alma. "I never make hard and fast rules."

"Well, what do you think I have for you?" persisted Donald, still intent on the pleasure of the surprise.

"A big box of chocolates?"

"No, you'll never guess. See here."

He went into the hall and returned triumphantly bearing the lost umbrella. "I telegraphed all over the country until I traced it," he said.

"Oh," murmured Alma, duly.

Mattie, who rarely laughs, astonished her brother by her merriment.

Phosphorescent Tree.

People walking in a wood in the Wishaw district, near Glasgow, after dark, were startled the other night by what they took to be an apparition in the wood. On making investigation they found the trunk of an ash tree in an upright position giving forth a light resembling phosphorescence, but more brilliant. Those who have visited the spot stoutly insist that the tree's light is more of an incandescent brightness, sufficient for the growth of plants in its vicinity. Large crowds were attracted to the place to witness the spectacle, while young men secured chips of the tree and were seen on their return to the village.
